What is ITV?

ITV/TV Production is a small learning community within the school in which students participate in producing the daily morning show and competing in scholastic photography and videography competitions. Students meet as a regular class first period, and they receive one fine arts credit per school year. Students are responsible for covering campus news events, sports, and other activities. The program is career oriented with a focus on broadcast journalism and film related careers. Students are required to hold jobs within the program and to work in a team environment. There are jobs both in front of and behind the camera. The final deadline is the last day of school, but there are a limited number of students accepted, so apply as soon as possible.

Requirements:

- Attention Rising 9th graders: You must have a reference from someone who knows you at your middle school. The reference may be from your school's media specialist, ITV, yearbook, or newspaper class adviser, or English teacher. That person must fill out the last page of this application and send it to me at: Reevesc@santarosa.k12.fl.us or attach it to your application to be delivered to GBHS.
- Students must have a minimum 3.00 GPA (A and B student) and must be seeking a standard high school diploma.
- Disciplinary records must reflect no more than a minimal number of minor occurrences and an acceptable attendance history.
- Upon acceptance, students must maintain a 3.0 GPA in TV Production. Failure to maintain acceptable attendance, good behavior, and the 3.0 GPA could result in withdrawal from the program.
- Students must follow the rules and guidelines of GBHS and ITV.
- Students are expected to act professionally and represent GBHS in a positive manner.
- There is an activity fee of $10.00 payable to GBHS the first week of school. The funds will be used for equipment, supplies, and contest fees.
